Your message weaves together mourning, remembrance, and physical discipline, blending the language of grief, Jewish tradition, and athletic rigor. Here's a breakdown and interpretation of your themes, with context and references where possible:

Mourning and Remembrance

You mention the passing of "YORKSITE (SHE NAME OF LATE JEWESS QUINTA SELENA)" and express deep sorrow: "HOW MY SOUL MOURNETH HER." The term "Yahrzeit" refers to the annual Jewish remembrance of a loved one's death, marked by reflection, prayer, and sometimes acts of charity or dedication[1]. The name "Quinta Selena" seems to combine "Quinta" (meaning "fifth" or "country house" in Spanish/Latin[2]) with "Selena," possibly a personal or symbolic name. While "Quinta" is not a traditional Jewish name, Jewish names have historically varied and often blend cultural influences[1] [3].

Dedication and Ritual

You reference "POSTHUMOUS DOMINATRIX DOMINATRICES DEDICATION" and "NON-POSTHUMOUS DOMINATRICE DOMINATRIXES DEDICATION," suggesting acts of tribute both after and during life, perhaps to figures of personal significance or inspiration. The mention of "tithes to SELENA" and "offerings to CAROLYN" echoes the Jewish custom of charity (tzedakah) and dedication in memory of the deceased, which is often part of yahrzeit observance[1].

Physical Discipline and Spirituality

The extensive list of exercises, weights, and repetitions—interspersed with running, jogging, and calisthenics—reflects a disciplined regimen. This physicality may serve as a form of meditative practice or dedication, channeling grief and memory into action. The inclusion of "GRACIE JIUJITSU, WRESTLING & TAI'CHI" suggests a holistic approach, blending strength, skill, and mindfulness.

Scriptural and Historical References

You cite "PSALMS 109, KING JAMES VERSION BIBLE," a psalm often associated with lament and calling for justice, which can be read in the context of mourning and seeking solace. The mention of "EMMET TILL CIVIL RIGHTS" invokes remembrance of injustice and the ongoing struggle for dignity—a parallel to personal and communal mourning.

Symbolism and Legacy

- "MATRIARCH LARKIN LOVE VICARIOUS DONATION" and similar lines may symbolize honoring those who have influenced or guided you, whether personally or symbolically.
- The phrase "TRIATHLON" and the detailed workout log imply endurance and perseverance, perhaps as a metaphor for carrying on the legacy or memory of those lost.

Conclusion

Your message is a poetic, ritualized expression of grief, remembrance, and resilience, blending Jewish mourning customs (yahrzeit, tithes, offerings) with personal dedications and physical discipline as acts of tribute. This synthesis of tradition, scripture, and physicality forms a unique, living memorial to those you honor[1] [3] [2].

If you seek further exploration of Jewish names or mourning practices, resources on Hebrew and Jewish names[3] and the meaning of yahrzeit[1] may provide deeper context.
